HUSBAND SAVES WIFE

From Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"For many months I was not able to do my work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt fine and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JAS. ROHRBERG, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rohrborg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years it has been correcting such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Closing Out Sale of Lands and Marceline City Property

Having arranged to go into business at Carrollton, Mo., I propose to sell my home farm of 160 acres one fourth mile from Marceline with modern improvements. Also 80 acres unimproved one mile from Marceline, forty-five acres within the corporate limits of Marceline and four houses in Marceline, one of them thoroughly modern. Will make low prices and liberal terms on any of this property.

Ended Life In New Home

Luther DeWeese, a railroad carpenter, had remained away from his regular work two months to build a home for his family at Twenty-sixth Street and Everett Avenue, Kansas side. The day was approaching when the DeWeeses would move from 367 South Tenth St. to their new home.

The neighbors to be of the home builder visited him while he worked. Children asked for useless pieces of lumber, and one of the neighbors borrowed some nails, to show he had a friendly interest. All marveled at the progress DeWeese was making and the pleasure and happiness he derived from working early and late.

DeWeese's home life was just as pleasant. He enjoyed his family, and when he went to work today he left the impression of cheerfulness.

Two hours after his departure from home, Mrs. DeWeese was notified by the police that her husband was dead; he had committed suicide by hanging himself in the new house he was building.

The tragedy was discovered by a 5 year old boy Carroll Woodworth, a son of the man who borrowed the nails. Carroll went to the home today to return the nails. He came home breathless to his mother.

The man, he told his mother was hanging onto a rope and kicking.

Mrs. Woodworth called D. R. Montgomery, a street foreman who was in the street near by took him to the new house. DeWeese was dead when they arrived.

DeWeese had tied a rope to the ride pole of the roof while he stood of the ceiling beams. The other end of the rope was around his neck. He is believed to have taken the fatal leap just as the boy entered the house.

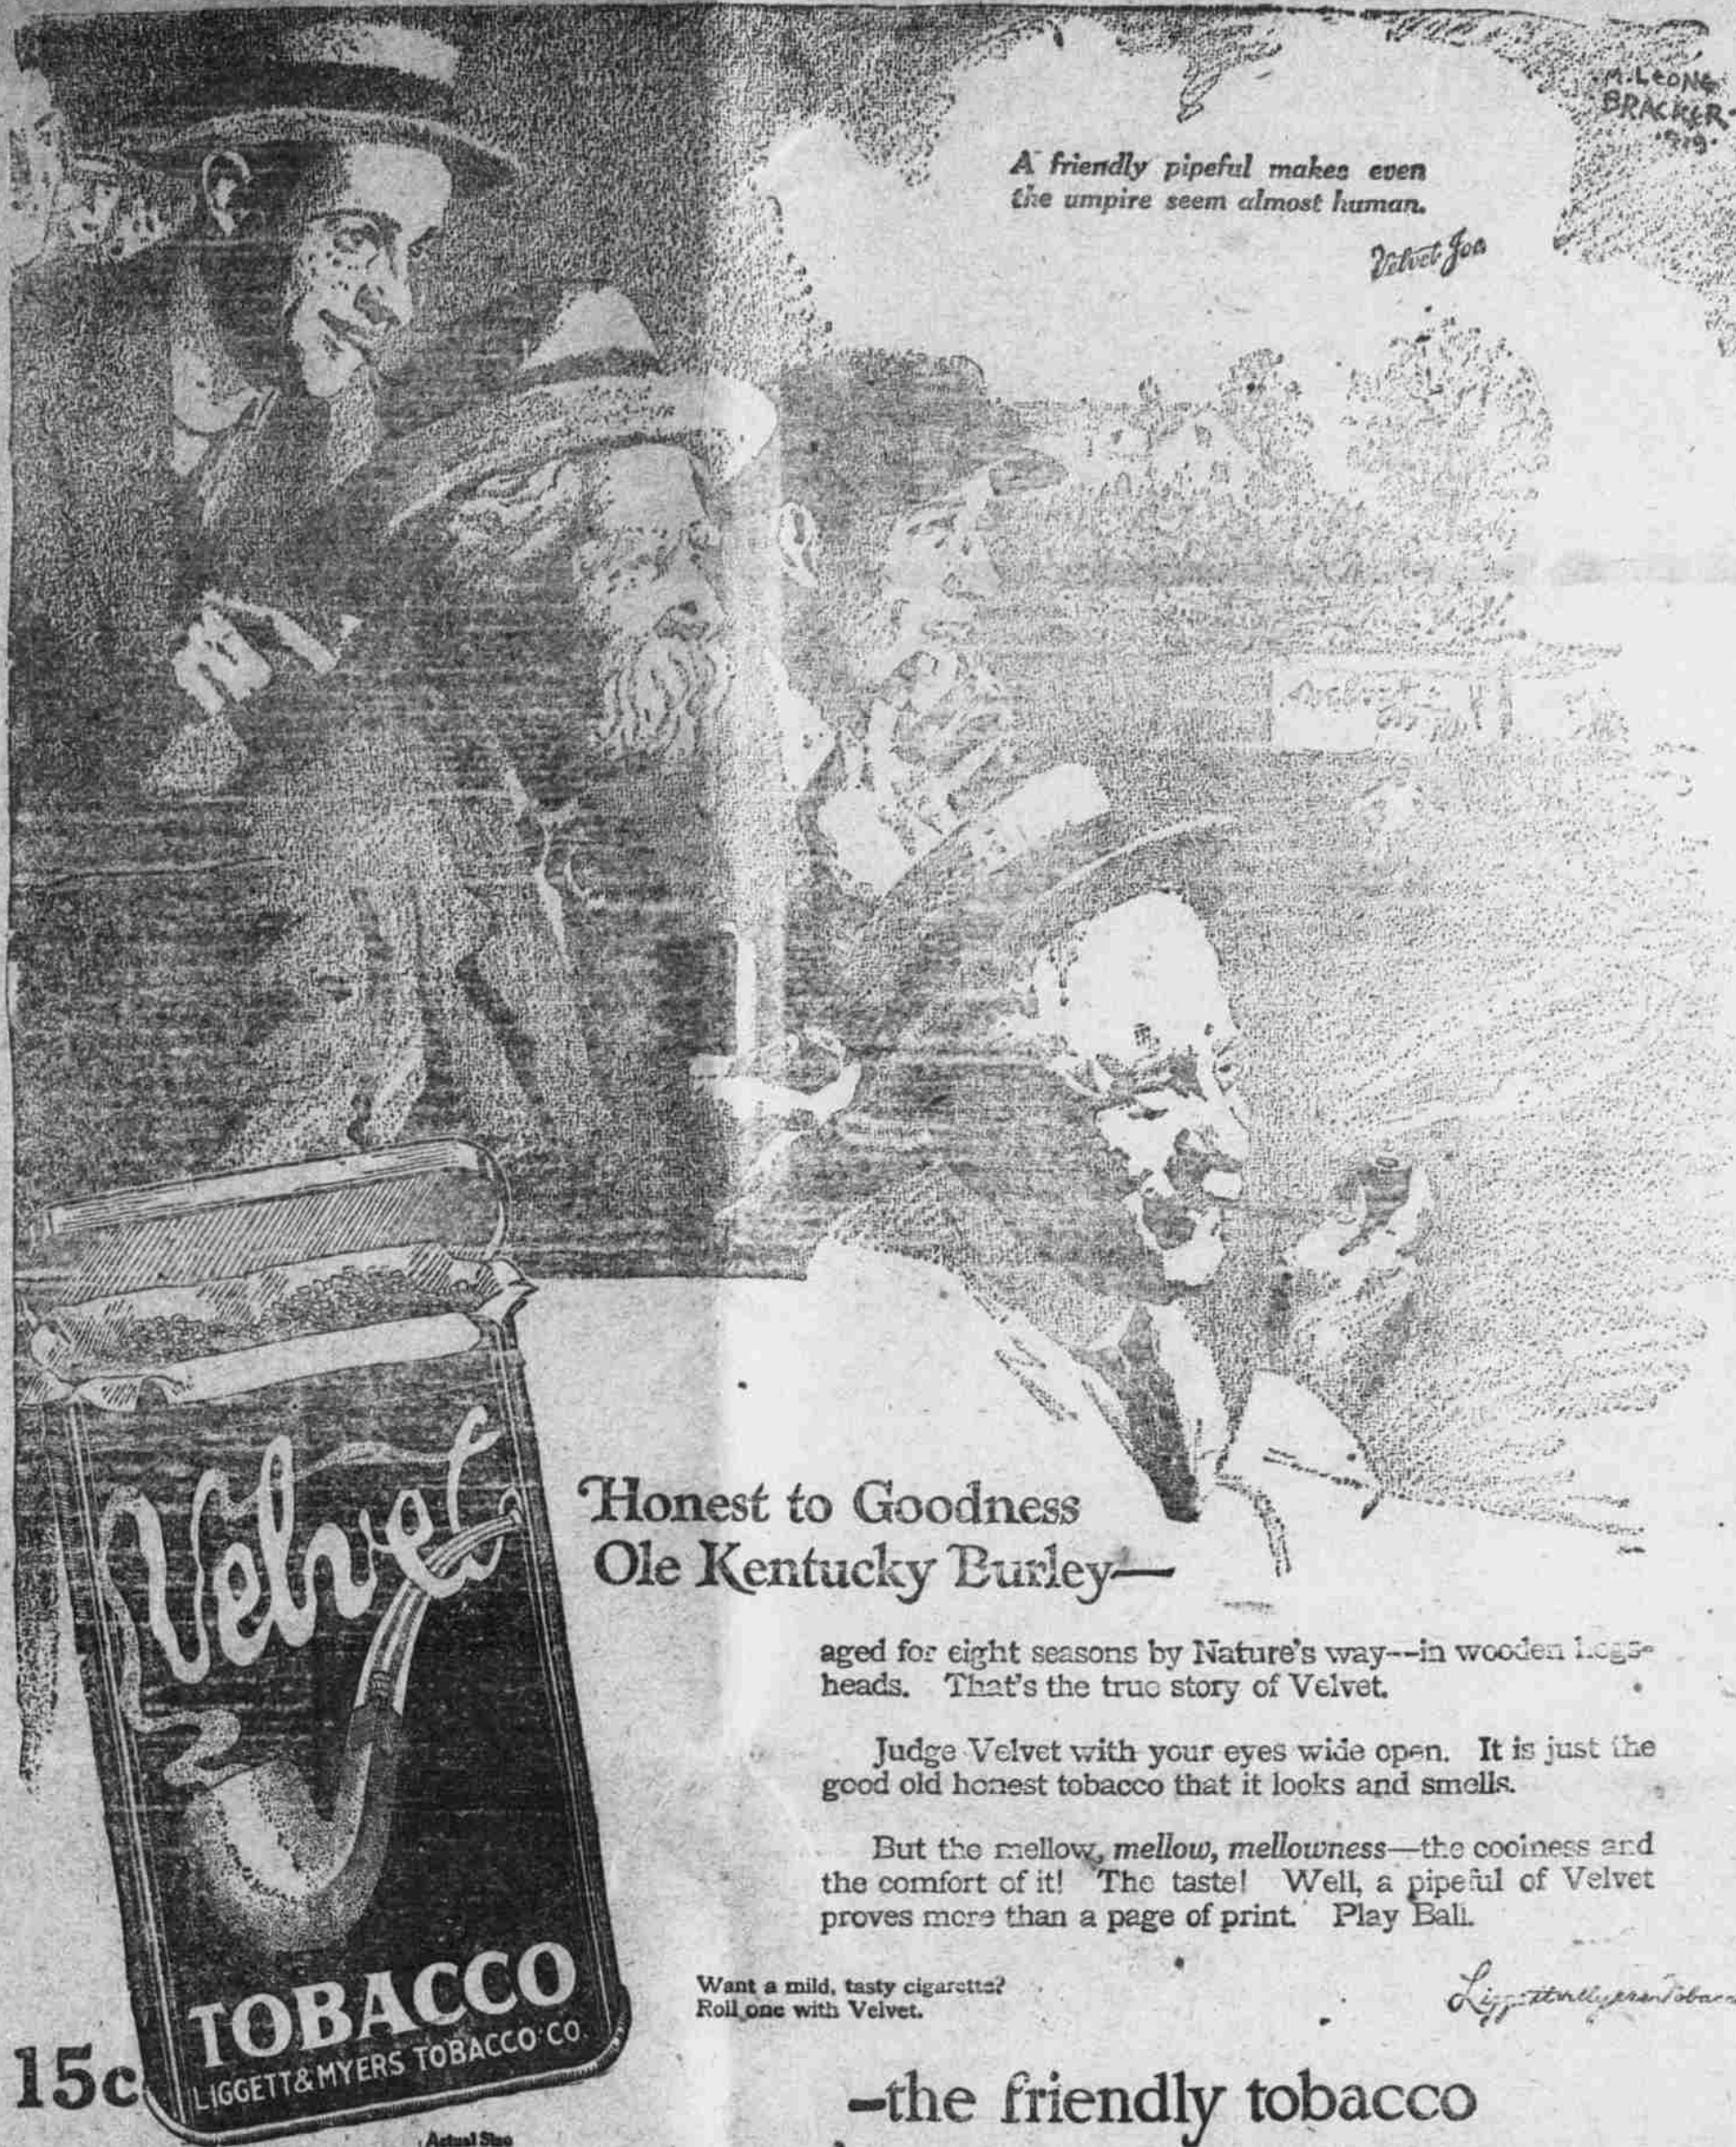

DeWeese left this note: "Notfiy Bessie DeWeese, 367 South Tenth Street. Please dont take much expense with my burial. Goodby and take care of the children. Trouble and worry caused this."

Luther DeWeese The mention of trouble and worry in the note caused much surprise to Mrs. DeWeese and the neighbors, for DeWeese never seemed to worry. He was 28 years old.

Luther DeWeese, son of Cornelius DeWeese was born near Guthridge Mill Oct. 28 1890, committed suicide July 18, 1919. He leaves a wife and 3 children, a sister, and a twin brother, his father and step mother, and two half brothers. Funeral at the Indian Grove Christian Church Sunday at 2 30 p. m.

Velvet Joe

Honest to Goodness Ole Kentucky Burley—

aged for eight seasons by Nature's way—in wooden log-ends. That's the true story of Velvet.

Judge Velvet with your eyes wide open. It is just the good old honest tobacco that it looks and smells.

But the mellow, mellow, mellowness—the coolness and the comfort of it! The taste! Well, a pipeful of Velvet proves more than a page of print. Play Ball.
